

and condemnation of 2 barrels, containing forty-eight 1-gallon cans of scallops, remaining in the original unbroken packages at New York, N. Y., alleging that the article had been shipped by J. T. Mitchell, Broadwater, Va., on or about February 17, 1930, and transported from the State of Virginia into the State of New York, and charging adulteration in violation of the food and drugs act.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that a substance, water, had been mixed and packed with and substituted in part for scallops.

On March 6, 1930, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that such portions of the product as were passed by this department as fit for human consumption be delivered to a municipal institution, and any unfit portion be destroyed.

ARTHUR M. HYDE, Secretary of Agriculture.

17116. Adulteration of scallops. U. S. v. 1 Barrel, et al., of Scallops. Default decrees of condemnation and forfeiture. Product delivered to charitable institutions. (F. & D. Nos. 24622, 24623. I. S. Nos. 028890, 028895. S. Nos. 2860, 2861.)

On February 14, 1930, the United States attorney for the Southern District of New York, acting upon reports by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district libels praying seizure and condemnation of 2 barrels containing 44 gallon cans of scallops, remaining in the original unbroken packages at New York, N. Y., alleging that the article had been shipped by A. L. Charnock, Willis Wharf, Va., on or about February 13, 1930, and transported from the State of Virginia into the State of New York, and charging adulteration in violation of the food and drugs act.

It was alleged in the libels that the article was adulterated in that a substance, water, had been mixed and packed with and substituted in part for scallops.

On February 28, 1930, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgments of condemnation and forfeiture were entered, and it was ordered by the court that the portion of the product fit for human consumption be delivered to charitable institutions, and the remainder, if any, destroyed.

ARTHUR M. HYDE, Secretary of Agriculture.

17117. Adulteration of scallops. U. S. v. 3 Barrels of Scallops. Default decree of condemnation and forfeiture. Product delivered to charitable institution. (F. & D. No. 24624. I. S. No. 028896. S. No. 2884.)

On February 18, 1930, the United States attorney for the Southern District of New York, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 3 barrels of scallops, remaining in the original unbroken packages at New York, N. Y., alleging that the article had been shipped by the R. E. Dean Co., Cambridge, Md., on or about February 15, 1930, and transported from the State of Maryland into the State of New York, and charging adulteration in violation of the food and drugs act.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that a substance, water, had been mixed and packed with and substituted in part for scallops.

On March 3, 1930, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the portion of the product fit for human consumption be delivered to a charitable institution and the unfit portion, if any, destroyed.

ARTHUR M. HYDE, Secretary of Agriculture.

17118. Adulteration of scallops. U. S. v. 1 Barrel, et al., of Scallops. Default decrees of condemnation and forfeiture. Product delivered to charitable institutions. (F. & D. Nos. 24633, 24634. I. S. Nos. 027602, 027603. S. Nos. 2894, 2895.)

On February 19, 1930, the United States attorney for the Southern District of New York, acting upon reports by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district libels praying seizure and condemnation of 3 barrels containing sixty 1-gallon cans of scallops, remaining in the original unbroken packages at New York, N. Y., alleging that the article had been shipped by H. S. Riggin & Son, Exmore, Va., in two lots,