

On October 30, 1931, the United States attorney filed in the District Court of the United States for the district aforesaid a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 1,250 cases of canned blackberries at Chicago, Ill., alleging that the article had been shipped on or about October 16, 1931, by Puyallup & Sumner Fruit Growers Association from Tacoma, Wash., and had been transported in interstate commerce from the State of Washington into the State of Illinois, and charging adulteration in violation of the food and drugs act. The article was labeled in part: "Charmed Land Brand Cultivated Evergreen Blackberries Packed by Puyallup and Sumner Fruit Growers Association, Puyallup Wash."

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that it consisted in part of a decomposed vegetable substance.

On April 22, 1932, the default of all parties having been noted, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

19328. Adulteration and misbranding of butter. U. S. v. 6 Cases, et al., of Butter. Consent decree of condemnation and forfeiture. Product released under bond to be reworked. (F. & D. No. 27839. I. S. Nos. 52007, 52009. S. No. 5805.)

Samples of butter from the shipment herein described having been found to contain less than 80 per cent of milk fat, the standard provided by Congress, the Secretary of Agriculture reported the matter to the United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois.

On January 28, 1932, the United States attorney filed in the District Court of the United States for the district aforesaid a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 30 cases of butter, remaining in the original unbroken packages at Chicago, Ill., alleging that the article had been shipped on January 15, 1932, by the Western Creamery Co., from Wichita, Kans., and had been transported from the State of Kansas into the State of Illinois, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act. The article was labeled in part: "Clear Brook Creamery Butter."

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that a substance deficient in butterfat had been mixed and packed therewith so as to reduce and lower and injuriously affect its quality and strength, and had been substituted in part for the said article. Adulteration was alleged for the further reason that the article was deficient in butterfat in that it contained less than 80 per cent of butterfat.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the article had been sold, shipped, and labeled as butter, which was false and misleading, since it contained less than 80 per cent of milk fat.

On February 1, 1932, Wilson & Co. (Inc.), Chicago, Ill., claimant, having admitted the allegations of the libel and consented to the entry of a decree, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be released to said claimant for reworking, under the supervision of this department, upon payment of costs and the execution of a bond in the sum of $500, conditioned in part that it should not be sold or disposed of contrary to the provisions of the food and drugs act or the laws of any State, Territory, district, or insular possession.
