

branding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act as amended. The article was labeled in part: (Jar) "Royalty of the Table Kerr Apple Butter Kerr Conserving Co. Portland, Oregon Cont. One Quart."; (case) "One Doz. Quarts."

The article was alleged to be misbranded in that the statements, "Cont. One Quart" and "One Doz. Quarts", borne on the jar and case, respectively, were false and misleading and tended to deceive and mislead the purchaser; and in that the article was food in package form and the quantity of the contents was not plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the package, since the statement made was incorrect.

On October 6, 1934, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered that the product be destroyed.

23178. Adulteration of cherries. U. S. v. 175 Baskets, et al., of Cherries. Default decrees of condemnation and destruction. (F. & D. nos. 33214, 33215, 33218. Sample nos. 5784-B, 5785-B, 5824-B, 5825-B.)

Examination of the cherries involved in these cases showed the presence of arsenic and lead in one lot and lead in the other two.

On July 26 and July 27, 1934, the United States attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, acting upon reports by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court libels praying seizure and condemnation of 593 baskets of cherries at Philadelphia, Pa., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce, in part on or about July 24, 1934, by A. Sutterland, and in part on or about July 26, 1934, by H. Sutterland, from Interlaken, N. Y., and charging adulteration in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

The article was alleged to be adulterated in that it contained added poisonous or deleterious ingredients, namely, arsenic and lead in one lot and lead in the other two lots, which might have rendered it harmful to health.

On August 29, 1934, no claimant having appeared, judgments of condemnation were entered and it was ordered that the product be destroyed.
