24827. Adulteration of dried peaches. U. S. v. Guggenhime & Co. Plea of guilty. Fine, $50. (F. & D. no. 29481. I. S. no. 296.)

This case was based on an interstate shipment of dried peaches which were in part insect-infested, moldy, dirty, or decayed.

On April 14, 1933, the United States attorney for the Northern District of California, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court an information against Guggenhime & Co., a corporation, trading at San Francisco, Calif., alleging shipment by said company in violation of the Food and Drugs Act, on or about November 21, 1931, from the State of California into the State of South Carolina of a quantity of dried peaches which were adulterated. The article was labeled in part: "Madrone Brand California Peaches * * * Guggenhime & Company California."

The article was alleged to be adulterated in that it consisted in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed, and putrid vegetable substance.

On May 20, 1935, a demurrer and a motion for a bill of particulars filed on behalf of the defendant company were argued and overruled. On September 28, 1935, a plea of guilty was entered and the court imposed a fine of $50.
