25755. Adulteration of cider. U. S. v. 5 Barrels of Cider. Default decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction of cider, and providing for return of empty barrels to consignee. (F. & D. no. 36899. Sample no. 54423-B.)

This product contained excessive arsenic and lead.

On December 28, 1935, the United States attorney for the Western District of Washington, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of five barrels of cider at Seattle, Wash., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce, on or about November 2, 1934, from Portland, Ore., to Seattle, Wash., and charging adulteration in violation of the Food and Drugs Act. The shipment was made by the Knight Packing Co., Portland, Ore. The article was labeled in part: (Barrels) "Richardson and Holland 518-1st Ave So., Seattle Wash. Knight Pkg Co Portland Ore. Boiled Cider."

Adulteration of the article was charged under the allegation that it contained added poisonous and deleterious ingredients, to wit, arsenic and lead, which might have rendered it harmful to health.

On February 29, 1936, no claimant having appeared, a default decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction of the cider was entered, the decree providing for the return of the empty barrels to the consignee.

25756. Adulteration and misbranding of cocoa. U. S. v. 10 Cases and 20 Cartons of Cocoa. Default decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction. (F. & D. no. 36904. Sample nos. 43985-B, 43986-B.)

This product was deficient in fat and contained excessive lead.

On January 2, 1936, the United States attorney for the District of Maine, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 10 cases and 20 cartons of cocoa at Portland, Maine, alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce, on or about October 4 and October 10, 1935, by the Massachusetts Chocolate Co., from Boston, Mass., into the State of Maine, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act. The article was labeled in part: (Packages) "Wan-Eta Cocoa One Pound Net Wan-Eta Breakfast Cocoa * * * Manufactured by The Massachusetts Chocolate Company Boston, Mass."

Adulteration of the article was charged (a) under the allegation that a product deficient in fat had been substituted for breakfast cocoa, which should contain not less than 22 percent of cacao fat; (b) under the allegation that the article contained an added poisonous and deleterious ingredient, to wit, lead, which might have rendered it injurious to health.

Misbranding of the article was charged under the allegation that there appeared on the label the statement, "Breakfast Cocoa"; that the said statement was false and misleading and tended to deceive and mislead the purchaser when applied to cocoa containing less than 22 percent of cacao fat.

On March 11, 1936, no claimant having appeared, a default decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction was entered.
