

taminated with filth and which had been prepared, packed, or held under insanitary conditions.

The complaint alleged further that the defendant was well aware that his activities were violative of the Act; that various inspections had been made by the Food and Drug Administration, at which times the insanitary conditions in the plant and storage facilities were called to the defendant's attention; and that despite such warnings, the defendant failed to correct the insanitary conditions and continued to introduce into interstate commerce unpopped popcorn adulterated as described above.

DISPOSITION: On 9-19-56, the court entered a temporary injunction enjoining the defendant against the acts complained of.

On 4-29-57, the defendant having consented, the court entered a decree perpetually enjoining and restraining the defendant from directly or indirectly introducing or causing to be introduced and delivering or causing to be delivered, for introduction into interstate commerce, unpopped popcorn which was adulterated as alleged in the complaint. The decree provided further that the unpopped popcorn being stored by the defendant at Napoleon and Bowling Green, Ohio, be subjected to one of the following treatments by the defendant, namely, (1) destruction, (2) cleaning until the popcorn was fit for human consumption, or (3) denaturing so that the popcorn could not be sold for human consumption; and that whichever treatment the defendant elected to follow, it should be conducted under the supervision of the Food and Drug Administration with the cost of such supervision to be borne by the defendant.
